WEST

Packages Information Photonics West 2025

This is a preliminary layout. Changes can be applied.

Photonics West 2025 is the event where

- The Optics and Photonics community shares the latest advances in lasers, biomedical optics and biophotonics technologies, optoelectronics, and quantum photonics
- Global collaborations amongst industry and research professionals facilitate advancements across multiple disciplines and applications
- Innovation happens, and business gets done
- Over 22.000 attendees and over 1.400 exhibitors are expected

Why exhibit at Photonics West

- Do business, share your latest solutions and innovations, learn, reconnect with customers, clients, and prospects and make new and important connections as everyone gathers after an exciting year of collaboration and business growth
- Strengthen your position in Photonics, Optics and Integrated Photonics technology, making significant strides towards expanding its reach in the international market

Why participate in the NL Pavilion

- Strategic and highly visible location in Hall F
- A professional NL Pavilion will maintain and strengthen the strong and confident Dutch market position
- Representation of companies from the entire value chain is very powerful
- Because of the clustering, a joint pavilion attracts more visitors to all exhibitors of the NL Pavilion

Please, scan the QR code or click on the link to go to the online form to confirm your participation in the NL Pavilion.

Remember that we have a limited capacity of participants and base the booth selection on the confirmation date.

Storage space

During the show's opening hours, we will provide a small storage cabinet for your valuable items such as small bags and jackets. The room has limited access. This storage room is not meant for empty large bags/boxes

There is an option to store large bags/boxes in a central space at the show for free. Be aware that, at the end of the show, it might take a few hours before these items will be returned to the pavilion

➔ The organiser is not responsible for any item that can be stolen or lost. Do not leave value items overnight inside the storage room

Common messages

The NL Pavilion and the exhibitors together provide the joint message:

“Light up your World with Dutch Photonics”

In our communication , we will use:

#ILoveDutchPhotonics

Programme networking events

These are not yet defined; we will inform you about them later.
